

C-OTMplus proves popular since product launch

10-Jan-2017

In the last few months Harris C4i secured multiple million dollar contracts for SwitchplusIP Communications On The Move Plus (C-OTMplus). This new product has only recently been added to the Harris portfolio, and is already proving itself in deployable and mid-sized command centres and operations rooms. The first contracts will see these compact, off-the-shelf communications solutions equipping an Asian Airforce with a portable solution, tailored to meet the unique tactical requirements of their Air-to-Ground Voice Communications.

"By listening to our customers and taking advantage of recent technology advancements we achieved an impressive 50% - 75% reduction in footprint for the C-OTMplus product, well exceeding the original project goals we set out to meet" Ovidiu Marin, Senior Project Manager.

The C-OTMplus product is an out of the box configuration variant of the SwitchplusIP product. Equipped with all of the functionality of the larger platforms, it is a compact and powerful solution enabling interoperability, high availability and reliability that is ideal for any organisation wishing to reduce costs and space for communications infrastructure, while maintaining the high availability for mission critical solutions.

Find out more information on the product, click here.